

CIRCOR Names Vincent Sandoval President of CIRCOR Aerospace & Defense

March 6, 2014

Former TransDigm and Parker-Hannifin Leader Brings Strong Global Industry, Operations and General Management Experience

BURLINGTON, Mass.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Mar. 6, 2014-- CIRCOR International, Inc. (NYSE: CIR), a leading provider of valves and other highly engineered products for markets including oil & gas, power generation and aerospace & defense, today announced that Vincent Sandoval will join the Company as Group President—CIRCOR Aerospace & Defense effective March 19, 2014. Mr. Sandoval currently is the President of TransDigm Group, Inc.'s Semco Instruments subsidiary, which designs and manufactures sensors and harnesses for use on various commercial and military airframe and engine platforms. Prior to joining TransDigm in 2010, Mr. Sandoval served 20 years in positions of increasing responsibility with Parker-Hannifin Corporation. He replaces Michael Dill who is leaving the Company to pursue other opportunities.

"I'm excited to welcome Vince to CIRCOR," said President and CEO Scott Buckhout. "Vince has a proven track record of improving the operational performance and organic growth of global businesses under his command. I am confident that he is the right person to take the reins at CIRCOR Aerospace & Defense, as we continue to pursue our goal of improving operating margins, improving customer relationships and leveraging our existing businesses in this key segment."

"I also would like to thank Michael Dill for his years of dedicated service to CIRCOR and wish him well in his future endeavors," concluded Buckhout.

Sandoval said, "In joining CIRCOR, I see a tremendous opportunity to leverage my aerospace experience and expertise in building upon a strong foundation to drive improved operating results. CIRCOR Aerospace & Defense produces equipment on a number of exciting platforms with key customers that I believe we can leverage into significant additional growth. I also look forward to working with the entire CIRCOR team to execute on the Company's growth and operations strategy."
